Software License

The NetWare(R) 4.2 software and accompanying documentation ("Software") are protected by the copyright laws and treaties of the United States (U.S.) and other countries. In addition, possession and use of the Software are subject to the terms of this Software License ("License"). By exercising Your rights to make and use copies of the Software, You agree to be bound by the terms of this License. The Software is licensed to You, not sold.

The Software contains various software programs with different license rights. Some of the programs are licensed for use on a single computer (network server), whereas some are licensed for use on several machines (workstations). The type of license that applies depends on the following definitions and the permitted uses specified in the documentation accompanying the Software.

   "Client Software" means the Novell(R) software programs provided as part of the Software that operate on an intelligent, single-user device, permitting that device to access the shared resources provided by the Host Software.

   "Host Software" means the software programs provided as part of the Software that are designed to operate on a single computing device, providing access to the shared resources attached to that computer. Host Software may contain technical limitations that limit use of the Host Software to a specified number of computers running the Client Software.

   "Gateway Software" means the IPX/IP Gateway Software, which is a NLM Software program.

   "MPR Software" means the NetWare MultiProtocol Router Software, which is a NLM Software program.

   "NLM Software" means the Software which is capable of running on the Host Software.

   "User Count" means the number of user licenses specified on the uniform product code label provided on the outside packaging of the NetWare 4.2 product that You have lawfully purchased or acquired.

   "Connection Management" Software means computer programs provided as part of the Software that monitor the number of connections permitted under this License and that are designed to prevent more connections than the number of licensed connections specified by the User Count.

License.

Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, Novell grants to You a non-exclusive, non-transferrable right for Your own internal use (a) to use the Host Software on a single network server; (b) provided You do not receive any direct payment, to make, and distribute internally within Your organization, an unlimited number of copies of the Client Software; (c) to simultaneously use up to the User Count of the Client Software; and (d) use the NLM Software on the Host Software. Client Software may be used only to access Host Software or other Novell software. Your license for MPR Software is for one (1) port, and Your license for the Gateway Software is a 250-user license. Novell reserves all rights not expressly granted to You. Use of any software programs accompanied by a separate license agreement shall be governed by that separate license agreement.

Upgrade License.

This section applies to You if the Software is an upgrade. The upgrade of the Software is referred to below as the "Upgrade Product." The product from which You are upgrading is referred to below as the "Original Product." Your use of the Software is subject to the following conditions:

   1) You have acquired the right to use the Upgrade Product solely to replace the Original Product that (i) You acquired legally (e.g. without infringing copyright or breaching a Novell license agreement), and (ii) qualified to be upgraded with the Upgrade Product under the Novell policies existing at the time you acquired the Upgrade Product. 2) You are the original licensee of the Original Product. 3) You installed and used the Original Product in accordance with the terms and conditions of the applicable license agreement. 4) At the time You acquired the Original Product, You acquired a complete copy of the Original Product, including all disks and manuals, and not simply a serialized master or license disk. 5) You have not acquired the Original Product in the secondary market, as scrap or through a second hand purchase from a dealer, distributor or another end user. 6) You will archive, return or destroy the Original Product within thirty (30) days of the installation of the Upgrade Product. 7) You will not sell or otherwise transfer possession of the Original Product. 8) You acknowledge that within thirty (30) days of installation of the Upgrade Product the license associated with the Original Product shall automatically terminate and become void. 9) You agree to waive any defense You may have against copyright infringement based upon possession of the Original Product except for archive purposes.

Additive License.

This section applies to You if You are acquiring the Software to increase the User Count of the previously acquired product (referred to below as the "Base Product"). Your use of the Software is subject to the following conditions:

1) You have acquired the right to use this Software solely to increase the User Count of the Base Product that You acquired legally (e.g. without infringing copyright or breaching a Novell license agreement); 2) You are the sole and original licensee of the Base Product; 3) At the time You acquired the Base Product, You acquired a complete copy of the Base Product, including all disks and manuals, and not simply a copy, serialized master, or license disk; 4) You have not acquired the Base Product in the secondary market as scrap, or through a second hand purchase from a dealer, distributor or another end user.

Evaluation License.

This section applies to You if the Software is provided to You for evaluation or demonstration purposes. Such Software may contain an automatic disabling mechanism. Your right to use the Software is limited in accordance with the terms of the evaluation offering under which You received the Software. If no period of use is specified, then Your right to use the Software shall terminate 30 days from receipt of the Software, at which time You must return or destroy the Software.

License Restrictions.

Novell reserves all rights not expressly granted to You. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, You may not modify the Connection Management Software to increase the number of connections supported by the Software; use any device, process or computer program in conjunction with the Host Software that increases, either directly or indirectly, the number of connections to the Host Software; reverse engineer, decompile, or disassemble the Software except and only to the extent it is expressly permitted by applicable law; or, rent, timeshare or lease the Software unless expressly authorized by Novell in writing.

Commercial Public Network Service Restriction.

You may not use the Software in a Commercial Public Network Service if the number of subscribers of the Commercial Public Network Service exceeds 5000. A Commercial Public Network Service is a service offered to businesses or the general public that provides Internet access, virtual private networking, remote network management, access to corporate or other networks, or access to any remote computing device, application, service or data. If you would like to use the Software in a Commercial Public Network Service with more than 5000 subscribers, you must obtain a separate license from Novell. For more information, see http://www.novell.com/internet.

Ownership.

No title to or ownership of the Software is transferred to You.
Novell, or the licensor through which Novell obtained the rights to distribute the Software, owns and retains all title and ownership of all intellectual property rights in the Software; including any adaptations or copies of the Software. Only the License is purchased by You.

terms. You may terminate this License at any time by destroying the License, You must destroy the original and all copies of the Software or return them to Novell.

of the Software. In the case of any conflict between the terms of this License and those of Your large account agreement, this License shall prevail.

effective unless in writing, signed by a duly authorized representative of the party to be bound. No waiver of any past or present right arising from any breach or failure to perform shall be deemed to be a waiver of any future right arising under this License.

Severability. If any provision in this License is invalid or unenforceable, that provision shall be construed, limited, modified or, if necessary, severed, to the extent necessary, to eliminate its invalidity or unenforceability, and the other provisions of this License shall remain unaffected.
